введение

Рабочая тетрадь EnglishConnect разработана в качестве вспомогательного материала к пособию EnglishConnect для учащихся. Цель этой рабочей тетради – помочь вам развить навыки владения английским языком и укрепить вашу веру с помощью упражнений и историй. Она также поможет вам практиковаться в использовании лексики и языковых конструкций каждого урока программы EnglishConnect во всех четырех областях развития навыков: аудирование, говорение, чтение и письмо. Каждый урок в рабочей тетради разделен на следующие указанные ниже разделы.

CONVERSATION(S) (ДИАЛОГ/-И)

Каждый урок начинается с одного или нескольких диалогов. Цель раздела состоит в том, чтобы представить новые слова, тему и конструкции данного урока, а также отточить слуховое и зрительное восприятие. Каждый раздел «Conversation» построен по единой схеме:

- 1. Слушайте. Прослушайте диалог полностью.
- 2. Слушайте и повторяйте. Прослушайте диалог строка за строкой и повторяйте то, что вы слышите.
- 3. Впишите пропущенное слово. Впишите пропущенные в диалоге слова. Выберите из слов, находящихся в окошке.
- 4. Прочитайте вслух. Прочитайте диалог вслух, чтобы тренировать разговорный навык.
- 5. Ответьте на вопросы (имеется не в каждом уроке). Эта часть предназначена для проверки вашего понимания диалога.

АСТІVIТІЕЅ 2-8 (УПРАЖНЕНИЯ 2-8)

Количество упражнений в каждом уроке различно. Эти упражнения включают в себя грамматические таблицы, упражнения на чтение, письмо, слушание и говорение, а также истории. Выполняйте указания, приводимые для каждой части упражнения. Для упражнений на слушание ищите аудиозапись с соответствующим номером и буквой упражнения – например, «Activity 2B». Для упражнений на говорение: помните, что говорить нужно вслух. Свериться с правильными ответами можно в разделе «Answer Key» в конце этой тетради.

PRACTICE PARTNER INSTRUCTIONS (ИНСТРУКЦИИ ДЛЯ РАЗГОВОРНОГО ПАРТНЕРА)

Этот раздел предназначен для того, чтобы помочь вам практиковаться в английском языке, применяя то, чему вы научились в рамках урока. Работайте с партнером, повторяйте лексику из раздела «Vocabulary», расположенного в конце данной тетради, и выполняйте упражнения из этого раздела. В каждом упражнении говорите как можно больше. Используйте это время, чтобы усердно трудиться над развитием разговорных навыков английского.

EXPANSION ACTIVITIES (УПРАЖНЕНИЯ НА СОВЕРШЕНСТВОВАНИЕ)

Эти истории и упражнения предназначены для того, чтобы усовершенствовать ваши способности читать, слушать, говорить и писать на английском языке, а также помочь укрепить вашу веру в Иисуса Христа. Каждый раздел «Expansion Activities» основан на вдохновляющей истории. Чтобы пройти этот раздел, сделайте следующее:

- 1. Изучите лексику. Прежде чем читать историю, узнайте значение новых слов и фраз, приводимых в этом разделе. Это поможет вам подготовиться к чтению истории, а также поможет понять ключевые слова и выражения в этой истории.
- 2. Слушайте. Прослушайте каждый раздел истории. Вы можете делать это столько раз, сколько вам нужно.
- 3. Прочитайте вслух. Прочитайте историю вслух, чтобы практиковаться в чтении и произношении, а также чтобы понять смысл истории. Возможно, вам будет полезно прослушать историю еще раз и одновременно следить по тексту.
- 4. Изучите лексику. Данная лексика призвана помочь вам понять отрывки из Священных Писаний и цитаты, приведенные в этой истории. Прежде чем изучать отрывки из Священных Писаний и цитаты, узнайте значение новых слов и фраз, приводимых в этом разделе.
- 5. Прочитайте вслух. Чтобы практиковаться в чтении и произношении, отрывки из Священных Писаний и цитаты необходимо прочитывать вслух несколько раз.
- 6. Подумайте. Данные вопросы предназначены для того, чтобы дать вам возможность подумать о принципе, которому учит история. Отведите время для того, чтобы задуматься о них. Возможно, вам будет полезно записать свой ответ на вопрос или ответы на вопросы.
- 7. Напишите. В этом разделе вам нужно будет выполнить письменное упражнение, направленное на то, чтобы помочь вам применить содержащийся в истории принцип.

When he was 15, his mom died. He moved in with his older sister. She lived in a big city. The neighborhood was crowded, noisy, and unsafe.

He argued with his brother-in-law. He had to move out. For many months, he lived on the streets.

Gordon Parks was born in 1912 in a small town. His home was full of love.

But his town was not. "Black kids can't play sports," said his high school coach.

One day he was very hungry. He thought, "Maybe I can steal some money." He saw a man. He pulled out his knife. He started to shake.

Soon, people paid him to take pictures. He went back to his small town. He took pictures of his school and his friends.

He thought about his mother. She had taught him to be good. "Sir," he said, "could you buy this knife? I'm so hungry. It costs one dollar." The man said, "No." Then he gave Gordon two dollars.

His pictures told new kinds of stories. They were stories of people in unsafe neighborhoods. They were stories of people who were angry.

After that, Gordon worked hard. One day he bought a used camera. He took pictures of the noisy streets. He took pictures of poor people in big cities.

They were also stories of people who were kind. And they were stories of people who were hopeful. What is it like where you live? What kind of stories can you tell?

PRACTICE PARTNER INSTRUCTIONS

- A. Help your practice partner review the vocabulary for this lesson in the back of this book. Make sure they understand the meaning of the vocabulary.
- B. Look at the questions in Activity 3B. Use those questions to ask your practice partner questions about their childhood. Substitute vocabulary when needed. For example, if they don't have siblings, ask about cousins. Help them say as much as they can. Then ask more questions. For example, ask, "Who were their friends? What were their friends like?" Then let them ask you the same questions.
- C. Talk about your childhood homes. Ask, "What type of home did you have? What did your home look like? Where did you live? What was close by? Who lived there with you?" Can they describe the home they live in now? Now let them ask you about your childhood home.
- D. Help your practice partner retell the story of Gordon Parks. Talk about the story. Did you like it? Why or why not? Tell a story about your neighborhood. Ask your partner to tell a story about their neighborhood.

The son took the money and left home. He went to another country. The son sinned. He wasted all of the money.

He went to his father's home. His father saw him coming.

Finally, the son had no money. He had no house. He had no food. He got a job feeding pigs. The son was hungry. He wanted to eat the pigs' food.

The father ran to meet him. The father put his arms around his son and kissed him.

The son said, "I am sorry. I have sinned. I am not worthy to be your son. Can I be your servant?"

But the father said to the servants, "Bring the best clothes for my son!" He put a ring on his finger.

The father told the servants to prepare a feast. He wanted everyone to celebrate. The son had sinned. But he repented and returned home.

He wanted to go on a mission for the Church. He was called to serve in Bulgaria.

In Bulgaria, he served near his birthplace. One day, Tavian and his companion traveled by bus to a small town to teach a lesson.

They drove to the edge of the village. Many curious people followed them. The mayor knocked on the door.

They asked a man for directions. This man was the mayor of the town. They told the mayor that Tavian was born in the town.

A woman came to the door. The mayor asked the woman if she wanted to see her son. She came out. She gave Tavian a big hug. "It's a miracle!" she said.

The mayor asked, "What is your Bulgarian name?" Tavian told the man his name. The mayor said, "I know that family!"

He gave me some tools. He said, "It will be a lot of hard work. But you can make it shiny again."

But a month later, my friend Evan got a new red bike. It was beautiful. It was faster than my bike.

I didn't listen. I painted my bike. But the red paint came off. It looked ugly. I thought, "My bike is ruined!"

It took a long time. I saw my friends outside. I wanted to play with them. But I needed to work on my bike.

Then everyone got red bikes. Now my bike wasn't special anymore.

A man came by. He looked at my ticket. He said, "Hurry! That train is leaving soon." We ran far away from the woman.

He pointed to my train. I got on the train. But I didn't know when to get off.

The girl found a taxi. She asked the driver, "Do you know where this hotel is?" He nodded. We got in the taxi together.

I showed my ticket to another man. He talked to the people next to him. He said, "Is anyone getting off at this city?"

The hotel was next to a museum. We went inside together. She said, "Do you know where the university students are?"

The girl in front of him said, "I am." She stood close to me. The door opened. We got off the train.

"Who will be there?" asked John. "Other international students," said Matt. "It will be fun."

John and Matt went to the party. It was fun at first. But then people started drinking more.

Then the party host brought out some illegal drugs. John felt very uncomfortable. He said, "Matt, we should leave."

Matt said, "I don't want to leave. We don't have to use the drugs. We'll just pass it to the next person."

John knew what was happening wasn't right. He said, "I'm going to leave. You should come with me."

Matt refused. He stayed at the party. After John left, the police came to the party.

During World War I, 100,000 German and British soldiers decided to stop fighting for a day. It was Christmas Eve 1914.

The soldiers on both sides started singing Christmas songs. They took turns singing. They sang in their own languages.

They gave each other small gifts of food, buttons, and hats. Some even played soccer with each other.

They had been fighting for five months in trenches. On that night, there were no guns fired. It was silent. It was an unofficial truce.

The next morning, Christmas Day, the truce continued. Many soldiers came out of the trenches. They walked across "no-man's-land."

When Christmas Day ended, the soldiers went back to their trenches and started fighting again.

German soldiers decorated their trenches with Christmas trees and candles.

They shook hands with each other. They said "Merry Christmas" to each other.

A German soldier wrote, "How strange it was.... Christmas, the celebration of Love, managed to bring mortal enemies together as friends for a time."

83

But our lovely daughter died just hours before my plane landed.

We felt grief and shock. How could we still say, "It will all work out"?

After Georgia's death, our feelings were raw. We struggled. Sometimes we still feel great sorrow. But we understand that no one ever really dies.

Georgia is no longer with us. But we have faith that she is still living as a spirit.

We believe we will live with her eternally if we keep our temple covenants.

We have faith in our Redeemer and His Resurrection. We have faith in His priesthood power and faith in eternal sealings.

We can still say, "It will all work out."

Matthew 3:1–16

2. Listen. 3. Read aloud.

John the Baptist lived in the desert for many years. He wore clothes made of camel's hair. He ate honey and locusts.

People came from the cities to hear him teach. He taught the people about Jesus Christ.

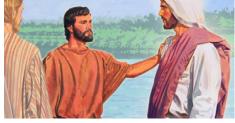

He told them to repent of their sins and be baptized. John baptized people who repented of their sins.

The people asked John how to live better lives. He told them to share with the poor, tell the truth, and be fair to others.

He said that Jesus Christ would soon come. Jesus would give them the gift of the Holy Ghost.

One day when John was baptizing people in the Jordan River, Jesus Christ came to him. Jesus asked John to baptize Him.

John knew that Jesus had always obeyed God's commandments. He did not need to repent. John thought that Jesus did not need to be baptized.

But God commanded all people to be baptized. Jesus told John to baptize Him. Jesus set an example for us. He obeyed God's commandment to be baptized.

When Jesus came up out of the water, the Holy Ghost came to Him. God spoke from heaven. He said, "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased."

Learn the vocabulary: principle, ordinance, baptism, immersion, remission, laying on of hands
 Read aloud. Then listen.

Seven years later, she started to work in a laboratory. Gertrude and her boss, George Hitchings, studied medicines. They studied sick cells. She worked late and on weekends.

When she was 15, her grandfather got very sick. He was very tired and he had a stomachache. They took him to the hospital. He had cancer. The doctors couldn't help him. He died.

Then her fiancé got sick. He had a fever. He was weak and his feet were swollen. He had an infection in his heart. The doctors couldn't help him. He died. Gertrude was very sad.

Gertrude and George discovered a special medicine. This medicine allows people to have organ transplants. Her medicine saves lives.

Gertrude said, "I want to help sick people." Her father said, "Be a dentist. You will make a lot of money." But Gertrude had a dream. "I want to find new medicines," she said.

"I still want to help sick people," she said. During the day, she worked as a secretary. At night she went to school. She got another degree.

"I'm happy," she said. "It's a wonderful life." In 1988, she received the Nobel Peace Prize. Gertrude Elion never gave up on her dream. What is your dream?

Beijing 2008 was my first Paralympic Games. I won both the 100- and 200-meter races with world records.

Four years later was the Paralympics in London. Thankfully, I did exactly what I did in Beijing—I won the 100 and 200 with world records again.

I'm a sprinter. I'm a four-time Paralympic gold medalist. I'm a brand-new husband, and I'm a proud Irishman."

"You are stronger than you realize. You are more capable than you can imagine. You can do it now!" (Dieter F. Uchtdorf, "You Can Do It Now!," Ensign or Liahona, Nov. 2013, 57).

When Ernest Shackleton was 40, he dreamed of reaching the South Pole. He sailed his boat to an island in Antarctica called South Georgia.

South Pole. But, in February, his boat got trapped in the ice. It was stuck. His men fished for seals, raced the dogs, and played soccer.

"We will walk to water," said Shackleton. They pulled small boats and walked. In December, the men were tired of walking. They camped in tents on the ice.

On April 24th, Shackleton told the men, "I will get help." He left with three men in a small boat. Three weeks later, they were back in South Georgia.

One night in April, the ice cracked. Their tents fell in the water. One of the men fell in too. Shackleton saved him from drowning.

But the town was on the other side of a mountain. They hiked for 36 hours. They stopped to eat, but they didn't sleep. It was too cold.

Then it got dark. It was dark from June until September. The men sang songs and read books. But in September the boat sank under the ice.

After that, they found water. They sailed in the small boats. Then they came to a place called Elephant Island. No one lived there. They were far from home.

After he reached the town, Shackleton got a new boat. He sailed back to Elephant Island to get his men. Everyone was still alive. They were happy to see him. He saved them when they were lost on the ice.

- B. Now, each of you find a picture of your family. Take turns asking and answering questions about the people in your family. What are their hobbies and interests? Do you have any of the same hobbies or interests? Who are you most like? Compare yourself to two of your family members.
- C. Look at the pictures in Activity 1C. Ask what happened. Ask how the person feels. What can you say to each of them?
- D. Talk about where you grew up. Take turns asking and answering the questions. Say as much as you can. Where did you grow up? What was your house like? What did you like or dislike about your house? What was close to your house? What were you like when you were young?

EXPANSION ACTIVITIES: LEARNING ENGLISH HAS BLESSED MY LIFE

1. Learn the vocabulary: prophet, translator, apply

2. Listen. 3. Read aloud.

My name is Vinny. I'm from Brazil. This is Kyle. He was one of my companions on my mission. He was the person who helped me to learn English.

Learning English helped me to have a good education today. It helped me to have a good job.

It also helped me be able to listen to the prophets and understand what they are telling me. It has truly blessed my life.

I'm Marco. I'm from Ivory Coast. This is my wife, Elizabeth, and this is baby Lima.

I was blessed on my mission to serve with companions who helped me improve my English.

After I finished my mission, I was blessed to be one of the official translators for the Church in West Africa.

My name is Vanessa. This is my sister Fabiela and my father, Fabio. We live in Honduras. My father has a construction company.

He is leaving on a mission for the Church. My sister and I are going to take care of the business when he is gone. We wouldn't be able to do this without English.

English is helping me to develop new skills and new knowledge that I can apply here in my country. English has really blessed my life.

4. Learn the vocabulary: diligent, seek, mysteries, unfold, perseverance, demonstrate, tough, give up 5. Read aloud. Then listen.

"For he that diligently seeketh shall find; and the mysteries of God shall be unfolded unto them, by the power of the Holy Ghost" (1 Nephi 10:19).

"Perseverance is demonstrated by those who keep going when the going gets tough, who don't give up even when others say, 'It can't be done'" (James E. Faust, "Perseverance," Ensign or Liahona, May 2005, 51).

- 6. Ponder: How will you be able to bless others by learning English? What will you do after you finish this English class to keep learning English?
- 7. Write a list of three or more goals for improving your English skills.

8. Speak: Tell your English goals to three people.
